To right injustice, to relieve the oppressed to correct public abuses, to overthrow the monopolies, to expose and bring to punishment corruptionists in high places and in low-such are the principles of THE EVENING WonLD's platform of action.

These are not empty words. They mean what they say. By the record made and making let the sincerity of their purpose be

No one can look into the toil-worn face of the metropolis or scrutinize the happenings of neighboring communities and fail to perceive how common the injustice, how many the abuses, how brazen the corruption that

But it is specific cases and not generalities that serve to make the issues clear and bring

The readers of THE EVENING WORLD CAD materially assist its keen-eyed representatives in this good work. There is much to be done. We publicly ask every reader of these lines to lend a hand.

Send in the particulars of any case of injus tice, oppression, public abuse or corruption that falls within your observation. It will be investigated by THE EVENING WOBLD, and, if a good case and within the province of journalistic effort, it will be taken vigor ously in hand. We cannot reform everything in a day, but we will keep our batteries

THE PRENCH DUEL.

The duel between BOULANGER and FLOOUES to-day had a singular termination for a French affair of honor. Both combatante were wounded. It is seldom that blood is drawn more than from a scratch in such encounters. But in this one BOULANGER was seriously and FLOQUET slightly hurt.

The result ought to have been reversed to have satisfied popular sentiment. Very few would be sorry if the Minister had been taught a lesson he would not soon forget. The duel and the wound will, however, increase Boulanger's popularity with the people. The more his enemies seek to destroy him, the more the masses will be disposed to make him their idol.

A PROPER DECISION.

Commend us to Surrogate Ranson. He has rattled the bones of bogus will contestants and dilatory guardians, trustees and referees in a lively fashion since he has been in office and has worked a lively reform in the general business of a heretofore somewhat cobweb-covered and humdrum court. Now he promptly grants the application of the new Duchess of Marlborough, the widow of Louis C. Hamerstey, for an allowance of $100,000 out of her first husband's estate for her present support and maintenance.

That is right. The Duchess is entitled to the money for her generous and unselfish conduct in bestowing her hand on an English nobleman and sacrificing her chances of marrying any American gentleman she might have chosen to honor with her favor.

WHO KNOWS?

The Aqueduct revelations are rapidly bringing matters to a focus. Now that the old Commissioners and the new political deal Commissioners, whose interests mysteriously clash, come in contact and abuse

It would probably startle the people if they could ascertain precisely the cause of the jealous conflict between the old set and the the original Commissioners regarded the new members as interlopers, and the new members have considered it their privilege to 'catch up" with the old hands.

What next? Some surprise has been expressed that the Governor did not state in his proclamation just what he called the extra ession for. Suppose Gov. HILL should decide to suggest legislation not on prison labor alone, but on Aqueduct matters and on the lawlessly delayed census? Suppose he should recommend an entire reconstruction of the Aqueduct Commission. Who knows?

It may be all right. But we would like to know by what authority or on what justification the Sinking Fund Commissioners are paying premiums to architects for plans for the hideous " wings " in the City Hall Park which are not to be built? Time enough to obtain plans for a municipal building when the site has been selected.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment has done well to disapprove the proposed iron bridge at One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street and St. Nicholas avenue, and to favor the winding street and roadway plan in connection with the High Bridge Park improvement. These uptown public works ought to be vigorously pushed,

The young Napoleon, HENRY S. IVES, has been indicted at last by the Hamilton County Grand Jury. The offense charged is not stated, but he will be sent to Cincinnati on a requisition to answer. Is this young Nap's St. Helena?

WILLIAM FAUST, the driver of the butcher' cart which ran over and killed Mrs. JOHANNA Munny v about four weeks ago, was vesterday held for trial. It is time an example was made to check reckless driving.

The murderer Bucous, alias Maxwers, has twenty-one days more of life allotted to him through the respite granted him by Gov. MOREBOUSE. After that the Governor decider that the law must take its course.

BOULANGER will now painfully understand the force of the American aphorism : " One in the neck."

CHAPTER II.

The only difficulty in the way of telling THE EVENING WORLD'S readers all about the people and institutions of the Sixteenth Assembly District is to aecide where to begin, or having left off to decide which of the many phases of the district's life shall next claim attention.

But a few crowded blocks to the east of Third avenue above Fourteenth street are comprised in this powerful and populous political section of the city, but how typical t is of the life of the whole and how long is its list of interesting features!

Its citizens have contributed more than their full share to the history of the city and many of its still prominent men and landmarks bear the genuine stamp of "the good old times." The saloon-keepers of the district so potent in their peculiar line, merit a place all by themselves.

NOT A "DRY" DISTRICT. The books of the Excise Department show that there are 237 places in the district licensed to sell liquors and beer.

Among the more prominent saloous are Among the more prominent saloous are those of Charles Murphy, Twentieth street and Second avenue and Twenty-third street and Avenue A; Christian Boylan, Twentieth street and First avenue; Hugh Wallace, Twentieth street and Third avenue; John Cahill, Twenty-first street and Third avenue; Alderman Joseph Murray, Twenty-sixth street and First avenue and First avenue and Sixteenth street, near Avenue C; Pairick Burns, who once ran for Alderman as an independent candidate, Sixteenth street and Avenue C; Foley & Congdon, Seventeenth street and First venue; Thomas Cunningham, 252 Avenue B, corner Fifteenth street, a very wealthy man who is also a boss truckman, and the receipts of whose store average $110 a day; Frank Clark, who does a rattling business at the late Hugh Kiernan's place, Twenty-second street and Third avenue; Sullivan, who has a mint corner of Fourteenth street and Third avenue; Thomas Genet, Seventeenth street and First avenue, and Sixteenth street and First avenue, and Sixteenth street and First avenue, Thomas Reilly, Sixteenth street and Third avenue a famous ale place which has the reputation of never having been opened on a Sunday.

"OUR ALDERMAN." Joseph Murray is the Alderman of the district and is a County Democracy adherent. He is now serving his fourth term in the Board. "Joe" Murray, as he is familiarly called, is "one of the boys," and is very popular.

THE OFFICE-HOLDERS' BRIGADE. The following list of office-holders in the district is compiled from the City Record list. There may have been a few changes since Jan. 31, but the roll of honor is as complete and thorough as could be obtained. A few of the salaries are by day's labor and they have been footed up for the year. If a drum should be tapped to gather together all residents in the district who would take an office, a brigade could easily be formed: Maurice J. Power, Police Justice, 303 East

ARTIST REMINGTON'S DEATH.

His Friends Surprised and Incredulous Over the Report that He Suicided.

A dispatch from Trinidad, Col., announces the suicide by morphine of Frederick Remington, a New York artist, who had been sketching in the neighborhood for some weeks.

Remington is said to have left $4,000 to a pretty milliner named White, with whom he was in love, besides $2,000 to the Journalists'

Home.
The Harpers, in this city, received a telegram this morning suncuncing the death of Remington, who had done work frequently for them.

The reports of suicide and of the bequest to Miss White are both questioned by the Harpers, as Remington was a fine, vigorous fellow, and had a wife at 561 Most avenue,

Mott Haven,

He was making sketches for the Century.

The news of his death was a great surprise to the Harpers.

A Very Harmless Gang-

Please let "Church Neighbor" know that this is not the truth. If we sit down by ourselves, talking and laughing, the policeman on the beat "chases" us. If we go upon the roofs of any of the houses the house-keepers "chase" us down. The policeman soils us to go to the park, but we will get "chased" away from there, too.

We must enjoy ourselves some way, and why can we not stand around our own doorwavs? Through the kindness of one of the neighborly storekeepers, who furnishes chairs or milk cans, we are enabled to rest ourselves, but the dandy copper on the beat tells us to "get away from here." He does not like to be walking around and looking at us sitting down.

Frank Presco, an Italian keeper of an am ployment agency at 131 Mulberry street, was held in the Tombs Police Court yesterday on pleased at the action of the Central Labor Union in suspending the first-mentioned body od nearly all the delegates of the big Building Trades Section, assert that the same difficulty which arose in the old section about the admission of the Locksmiths and Railing-makers' Union and Iron Molders' Union No 25 will arise in the new section, and the Building Trades delegates will refuse to recognize any section which admits delegates fr morganizations whose members labor for less waces and work longer hours than the members of other similar bodies. Vide the Locksmiths and Railing-makers' Union and the Houssemiths' Union.

Both the old Metal Section and the Building Trades Section opposed the admission of Iron Molders' Union No. 25 because members of the latter had acted contrary to trades-union laws and rules.

Therefore it is believed by the delegates who oppose the action of the Central Labor Union that disruption is sure to follow any attempt on the part of the new Metal Section to organize and endeavor to do business, for these same onestions must receasily was a sure or these same onestions. the complaint of a score or more of his countrymen, each of whom he cheated out of $5 on the promise of securing him employment. They have also a Board of Walking Delegates whose business is to lead walking aterests of the members of the organizations they represent and see that unscrupulous bosses do not impose on unsuspecting work-men. This Board meets every Mouday, Wednesday and Friday at 35 Clinton place.

A DEAL IN PROSPECT.

Cabor Leaders Said to Have a Mutual Benefit Plan for the Republicans. The bosses and leaders of the old political parties are anxiously watching the labor novement, with a view towards ascertaining ' how the cat is going to jump " in Novemper next Thus for the labor organizations have held aloof and have taken no active part in the canvass.

It is said, however, that a combination is sought to be effected by certain of the labor leaders with the Republicans, with an eye towards capturing the municipal government in exchange for Presidential votes.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers con-tinues to support the men who lost their situations on the Burnington Railroad. The men employed in the furniture factory of Maier & Dotzhauer are on strike against a violation of an agreement made by them with the firm.

An advance of 50 cents a day has been given to each worker in Loth's silk ribbon manufactory through the efforts of the Slik Ribbon Weavers Union. The Enights of Labor now talk of forming a National Building Trades Assembly, to include all the workers in the United States engaged in constructing buildings. The glass-workers are likely to effect a con promise on last year's scale of prices. The work men want an advance of 5 per cent. and the em-ployers a reduction of the same amount.
